Best Nightmare in Time for Christmas Horror for the Holidays

For some of us, The Nightmare Before Christmas isn't just a movie: It's a way of life. So for anyone in your life who likes their tinsel black, their wreaths ready for the tomb or the front door, and their centerpieces with a carnivorous plant, Horror for the Holidays is the ideal place to pick up a gift.

Organized by Austin's terror connoisseurs at Blood Over Texas (and most especially by the queen of satanic shopping, Bunny Voodoo), the annual two-day fair of fright is your perfect opportunity to sit on Krampus' lap.
